THE DEMOCRAT.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1852

A Word to Advertisers.—All the advertisements appearing in the Daily Democrat are transferred to our Evening Edition, and receive a gratuitous insertion last. Thus each patron of the morning paper has the advantage of an evening circulation to a distinct class of readers free of charge.

A new locomotive, called the Tom Smith, for the Louisville and Frankfort railroad, has arrived.

The Democracy of Ohio and Indiana hold a grand rally at New Haven, near the boundary line, on Saturday week.

A new locomotive called the Barlow, for the Jeffersonville and Columbus railroad, has arrived at the former place.

Judge Douglass proceeds to Lexington to attend the State fair and meet the democracy of the Ashland district.

All day and all night, up to the time of going to press, the city was all astir with the crowds from all sections of the country.

The I. O. O. F. attended the funeral of Henry Kastenbauer, a deceased brother, yesterday.

Mr. S. S. Kennedy offers several very desirable pieces of real estate for sale through our columns to-day. Read the advertisement.

The Newport (Ky.) News has the names of Hale and Julian at its masthead. So much for treason in Kentucky under the lead of C. M. Clay.

The work on the Cincinnati and St. Louis railroad is progressing finely, and with such indomitable energy as to insure its speedy completion.

The city is crowded with strangers—neither so full perhaps as at this time. The two becomes, together with the large number of merchants gathering in for their fall supplies, have brought together thousands of people from the country round.

Recalled that Messrs. S. G. Henry & Co. sell this afternoon, on the premises, the two-story brick house and lot, south east corner of Chestnut and Fifth streets. They also sell at their auction room this morning, at 10 o'clock, a variety of A. No. 1 furniture, manufactured in this city—second hand, but very little used.

Fourth Street.

We would advise strangers in the city in search of Dry Goods, not to overlook Fourth street, between Market and Jefferson. Late some of the most extensive dry goods houses have removed from Market street to this point, and are now offering their goods at unusually low prices to induce a portion of the trade, at least, to examine their new location, for the dry goods business.

More Whig Decency.

We return that a portion of "all the decency" disgraced themselves as usual at the speaking in front of the court house last night. The disgraceful conduct of these drunken rowdies settles down upon themselves and fills harness upon the broad shoulders of the democracy. If they will save some of their noses until the tide of November, they may try a little or rowdy at pleasure.

To the credit of Mayor Speed, it is said, he tried to suppress the rowdiness of these drunken Scott whig interlopers.

Commerce of the West.—Some idea of the commerce of the West may be gained from a few facts, as follows: Number of the steamers in the Mississippi valley, 257; Ohio basin, 343; Northern lakes, 164—Total 760. Tonsage of the foregoing 204,725; crews, 12,607. And it is supposed that the tonnage of sail vessels, flat-boats and keel-boats is equal to that of the steam marine. And further, it is a low estimate for loss of property on these water lines annually, in consequence of disasters etc., to place the amount from $12,000,000 to $16,000,000.

Inquest No. 62 was held by Coroner Green on the body of Susan Meeks, who lived on 11th street, between Jefferson and Market, at the house of a Mrs. Brown. Miss Meeks had been pursuing a lewd life for some time, and had set at defiance all the good counsel of her parents, on Tuesday night prevailed on a child about 7 years old to procure her some opium, which she took, causing her death. A post mortem examination was made by Dr. Thomas Berry, but the stomach was in a condition that placed it beyond the scrutiny of the Doctor to detect the opium. Verdict—Came to her death by probable poisoning from opium, administered by herself.

The following was handed us yesterday with a request to publish. It shows that the democracy of Boydton are up and doing.

Mayfield, Ky., Sept. 11.

Eds. Dem.—The democrats of this part of the State have resolved to hold a mass meeting at Mayfield on the 15th and 16th of October. Ample arrangements are making to accommodate 10,000 persons. Will you please give publicity to the meeting in your paper?

Very respectfully,

Wm. M. Caffill, John Eaker, W. B. Bradley, S. B. Holfield, A. K. Wellington, F. M. Gholson.

A Gem from Gen. Scott's "Line of Life."

"Who knows thy line of life that loves thee not, Chevalier, darzee, he hearted son, Whig song."

We think we are liberal enough when in providing for America, we leave the door of admission open to the children of foreigners now abroad, who may hereafter be born here, without allowing their fathers to come and help to govern us! who alone have any right to think on the subject, claim that we can best govern ourselves. And the other great argument in the measure, so much the better for the foreigners—she may hereafter come to us, and for their American born children—Scott's communication in the National Intelligencer, December, 1844.

If you would love to a widow who has a daughter twenty-nine years younger than herself, begin by deciding you thought they were mere.

Mr. Gough is delivering temperance addresses in Boston.

(Reported for the Louisville Democrat.)

POLICE COURT.

HON. JOHN JONES, JUDGE.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 15.

After Boyd released from work house on bail. Patrick Castillo, Ann Castillo, and Mary Finn—drunk and disorderly conduct. Patrick and Mary were discharged; and Ann held to bail in $200 for a month.

Complaint filed by Jeremiah Cowan vs. Mary Finn, held to bail in $200 for one year.

George Lewis, drunk and disorderly conduct; bail in $100 for 1 month. Cave.

Michael Dune, sleeping in the market-house. Fine $5.

WHIG EVIDENCE OF RUIN.—The Essex manufacturing company, at Lawrence, Mass., are now engaged in constructing an enormous establishment, 700 feet long, for the manufacture of Bargee De Laines. The capital required to complete it is computed at one million of dollars. This is a terrible stride backward, toward that state of "colonial vassalage," about which the whig editors have for years been so terribly alarmed. Mr. Lawrence, our present minister in England, is said to be a large stockholder in the concern—the same Mr. Lawrence, who predicted and published in starting capitals, that if the present tariff was passed, there would not be a species paying Bank in the Union, twelve months after it went into operation.

As to the item for losses by exchange, we only remark that all our foreign ministers have

[From the Washington Union.]

Gen. Scott's Pay and Allowances.—Mr. Merriweather's call for information as to the sums of money received from the Treasury by General Scott and General Pierce, and as to the character of the various items composing the aggregate amounts paid to them, has been violently denounced by the Whig press throughout the country. Mr. Merriweather, as the representative of a small State, had a perfect right to make such a call. Since many of the payments made by the Whig party, and, under certain circumstances, it becomes the imperative duty of representatives of the people to call for such information. The Whig press, however, has vilified and abused Mr. Merriweather for requesting a statement of the accounts of Gen. Scott and Gen. Pierce, and it has probably fixed a time of precisely on the public mind by adopting a course which tends to create a suspicion that General Scott's friends are apprehensive of the effects of exhibiting his transactions with the Treasury.

Just at the close of the recent session of Congress the acting Secretary of the Treasury sent a copy of the statement of the accounts of Gen. Scott and Gen. Pierce, to Mr. Merriweather.

We have given the papers a careful examination, and we present the result of examination with the hope that it will be candidly considered, notwithstanding the course which the Whig press has pursued. Justice to General Scott demands that the statement be made before the public, if all of them are accusations of the Whig party. Justice to the country demands that they should be exhibited, if any of them are not sanctioned by law. Truth demands a full statement, no matter what the result may be.

The papers transcribed are—

I. A letter from the Secretary of War relating to the balance of contributions, &c., received in Mexico and withheld to the present time without authority of law, amounting to $7,855 19.

II. A letter from P. Clayton, the Second Auditor of the Treasury, communicating four papers:

A statement showing the amount of pay received by General Scott from July 1, 1815 to June 30, 1822. (This statement includes an item of $1,095 for rations for one year, paid in March, 1819, on account of expenses in the Cherokee country and on the northern and northeastern frontier, and an item of $1,095 for baggage to and from Europe, and allowance for fuel and quarters while there.) All the items of this statement amount to $203,779 71.

2. An exhibit of payments to General Scott for services not in the line of duty. They amount in the aggregate to $12,667 93.
